

San Andreas Fault in San Bernardino Road Trip Log

November 2022

Oak Glen Rd & Glen Rd, Oak Glen – the beginning of our tour – head west or downhill

38392 Oak Glen Rd, Oak Glen – Apple Blossom Ranch; fault is behind these buildings

0.3 mile down Oak Glen Rd – large turnout on the right; offers a great view of the San Andreas Fault to the northwest to Lone Pine Canyon (Cajon Pass) 40 miles “crow fly” away

38490 Oak Glen Rd, Yucaipa – fault is behind the Oak Glen Steak House

0.6 mile past Steak House – fault can be seen on the right as a straight line where the gradual slope turns to a steep mountainside

Yucaipa Ridge Rd & Quartz St, Yucaipa – head up this steep road to view both a sag pond and well-defined shutter ridge

0.7 mile from Bryant St & Hwy 38 – turn around at the large turnout on the left (west); this is where the San Andreas Fault crosses the road and the Mill Creek drainage

Old Greenspot Bridge – trailhead for walking up to the old bridge and examine the area and kiosks – the top of Seven Oaks Dam can be seen up the canyon

San Benito St & Mc Lean St, Highland – long skinny park or greenspace situated on top of the fault

Base Line St & Brookwood Lane, Highland – Natural Parkland Trailhead; road is next to the fault on the mountain side; Base Line will dead-end with a view of the fault heading back towards Seven Oaks Dam

Base Line St & Aplin St – sag pond just north of this intersection

Highland Ave & Pleasant View Ln – fault crosses diagonally over this intersection; notice the skinny long “no-man’s land” that exists between the rows of homes on both sides of the road

6892 Cloverhill Dr, Highland – just beyond the Spring Lake Clubhouse, on the left is the East Highland Reservoir, a sag pond located on the fault

4210 Highland Ave, Highland – Walmart just past the 330 Freeway; building is oriented in the direction of the fault; Walmart sits directly on top of the fault

3435 Holly Cir Dr, Highland – loop road going through small neighborhood next to fault with great views of valley below

Yaamava' Resort & Casino – fault is located directly behind casino buildings on Piedmont Drive

Willow Dr & Hemlock Dr, San Bernardino – street and houses located directly on the fault

Hill Dr & Acacia Ave, San Bernardino – Newberry Memorial Park is another greenspace located on the fault

Devils Canyon Rd & Campus Pkwy, San Bernardino – pass by Cal State San Bernardino campus and head up Devils Canyon to view California Aqueduct facilities; faults are located near grove of eucalyptus trees

Dement St & Cable Canyon Rd, San Bernardino – looking up Cable Canyon Rd, long abrupt ridges that look like fault scarps are not; fault is at base of mountains

Knoll St & Foothill St – head south on Knoll Street to see the two depressions the street passes through, the first being the San Andreas Fault and the second the Tokay Hill Fault

Swarthout Canyon Rd & Cajon Blvd – beginning of our San Andreas Fault tour near Wrightwood
